This past Sunday, we began to look at how we sometimes build up in our hearts expectations of God. We asked the question, "What do we do with a good, loving and just God who doesn't answer our prayers in ways that seem good, loving or just?" We then went to the first part of Job, and there we saw that when the sufferings came onto him, it was because God had boasted of him and his love for God.

Next week, we will be looking at the outcome of that, and why it really was that God allowed Job to go through what he went through. The answer may surprise you, but I guarantee that if you listen closely, you'll begin to look at your own struggles in whole new light. So come on out to Sunday Evenings this week, and every week. We always have a good time, and we always learn something new.

See you there!
